

WOULD "FILM" CITY TO BRING TOURISTS OVER LINCOLN ROAD

Board of Trade Planning Motion Picture Views For Distribution.

ELECT NEW MEMBERS

Directors Pass Vote of Thanks to Retiring Secretary, C. J.
Gockeler.

With a view to attracting tourists to the National Capital, directors of the Board of Trade have appointed a special committee to ascertain the expense and determine the feasibility of preparing a motion picture of views along the spur of the Lincoln Highway, which will pass through this city, for exhibition throughout the country.

At the instance of Col. Robert N. Harper, chairman of the Lincoln Highway committee of the District, the directors yesterday appointed Joseph M. Stoddard, Lewis Holmes, and Charles W. Fairfax to the committee, and directed them to co-operate with committees from the Chamber of Commerce and Retail Merchants' Association.

The directors also appropriated $15 to defray the expense of marking streets which will be included in that portion of the highway feeder which passes through the city and erecting signs at Philadelphia and Gettysburg on which the attractions of Washington will be set forth.

The proposed motion picture film would embrace both interior and exterior views of the public buildings of Washington, and scenes of branches of the government in operation, as well as historic spots along the route from Philadelphia and to Gettysburg.

The directors gave a vote of thanks to C. J. Gockeler, who will retire from the secretaryship of the organization on November 15, for his activities in promoting the interests of the board.

The executive committee has elected to membership in the board the following: The Washington-Virginia Railway Company, James P. Tiffany, E. Hilton Jackson, George M. Yeaman, Edward Volk, Jr., James R. Wheeler, Arthur Browne, J. Maury Dove, Jr., Henry Harding Burroughs, Reginald W. Geare, and Joseph Richards.

The annual meeting of the board will be held at the New Willard Hotel on November 15 at which ten directors will be elected. The directors will meet the following week to elect officers.

SCOPE TO BE FIXED FOR FISCAL INQUIRY

Joint Committee Will Take Names of All Who Expect To Be Heard.

When the joint Congressional committee on the fiscal relations of the Federal Government and the District resumes its sitting tomorrow, it will begin by taking the names of all those who hope to be heard.

After these names are in hand, the committee will indicate the times at which various persons will be heard, and it is expected that this announcement will indicate the future course and the scope of the hearings.

Several members, it is understood, have objected to the wide latitude given to their colleagues the opinion that it is only fair to the members of the citizens' committee that only those organizations and individuals be heard who filed a brief with the Congressional committee by August 15, as the citizens' committee was compelled to do.

Some Favor Wide Scope.

Other members on the Congressional committee, especially Senator Works and Congressman Rainey, have openly expressed themselves in favor of extending the scope of the hearing to include anyone who may have anything to say to the committee about District affairs.

The absence of Senator Chilton on Saturday kept the committee from determining on any definite policy in this regard. Senator Salisbury said that for Saturday afternoon he had decided to let all who wished to address the committee proceed, but after the meeting he called newspapermen together and asked that they make it clear that all persons wishing to be heard should be on hand and make formal application when the committee starts to work again tomorrow. Senator Chilton is now in New York, and he will not return to Washington until late this evening.

Hold Conference Daily.

During the recess of yesterday and today H. B. F. Macfarland, A. S. Worthington, and Theodore W. Noyes, who represented the citizens' committee of the District, have been in daily conference. When they will appear again is problematical. So far they have not asked for permission to be heard again, preferring to wait the pleasure of the committee.

Among those expected to be heard this week are William F. Richards, assessor of the District, and E. W. Oyster, from the assessors' office, who have expressed a desire to answer charges made against them by Herbert J. Browne. All three Commissioners will appear, expressing individual views, rather than making a joint presentation of their position.

William McK. Clayton, representing the District Delegate Association, has prepared a brief, and he will appear tomorrow to ask permission to present it.

EPWORTH LEAGUES OF CITY TO HOLD RALLY

Meetings Will Be Held Tomorrow and Thursday Nights in Foundry M. E. Church.

The Epworth Leagues of Washington will hold a two-night rally, beginning tonight in Foundry Methodist Episcopal Church, sixteenth and Church streets northwest, beginning at 7:30 o'clock, when a song service will be held in the main auditorium. At 8 o'clock the gathering will be divided into six smaller meetings in the various rooms of the church, and each group will discuss some phase of the work of the Epworth League. The four District vice presidents and the District Junior superintendent each will have charge of a conference of workers devoted to their respective departments, while the secretary and treasurer conduct a meeting to discuss methods for the betterment of their work.

Tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock the monthly meeting of the board of control will be held and hear the address of the Rev. W. W. Wedderburn which will follow.

Vaughn Class Club Has Entertainment Evening

An evening of music, story telling and recitations was enjoyed by members of the Vaughn Class Club of Calvary Baptist Sunday School, who met last night in the Sunday school rooms, eighth and H streets northwest. A brief business session was held before the entertainment.

The program included songs by the Vaughn class quartet and Wallace W. Fowler, tenor soloist. B. C. Gotsinger told some stories. J. C. Foster spoke on "The Life of a Government Clerk—By One Who Is," and L. B. Mann gave "The Origin of the Banjo" in negro dialect.

The Rev. R. R. Hagedorn described the revival now in progress in the Baptist churches of the city, and told of some work being accomplished. C. E. Emig made a brief talk on the opportunities of the hour in religious work, and Prof. Louis D. Elias, teacher of the class, also spoke.

Raymond H. Berry, who left Washington today to begin the practice of law in Parkersburg, W. Va., made a farewell speech.

Can't Delay Operation Of the Seaman's Law

In the absence of Secretary Redfield, Inspector General Hilder of the Department of Commerce said that it would be impossible to delay the going into operation of the La Follette seaman's act, as requested by port officials at San Francisco.

"There is no power in this department or in official Washington to delay the operation of a United States law," he said.

The San Francisco officials declared few sailors had applied for examination under the act, and that many had failed to pass. New York officials, on the contrary, reported that an unexpectedly large percentage had passed the examinations.

CONRAD H. SYME DISCUSSES VALUES

Corporation Counsel Makes Address Before Women's Single Tax Club.

Value in a sociological sense was defined as "a thing of thought and relation" and as "a quantity in the equation of the relations of property to man as a social being" by Corporation Counsel Conrad H. Syme, in an address to the Women's Single Tax Club at the Public Library last night. Mr. Syme took as his subject "True Values."

He said, in his opinion, "the fundamental error into which the race has fallen and persisted in to consider that the true value of property is fixed and determined solely by its relation to the individual, and not by its relation to the general welfare and happiness of mankind. This," he said, "has caused war, famine, riot and bloodshed, misery and poverty. It has limited opportunity and licensed greed. It has closed many doors of hope, and time and again has shut the gates of mercy to mankind."

"If we are ever going to bring into our consciousness the true and real value of the earth and the fullness thereof, and the multitudinous products of human labor, we must learn to think

Ah! Pain is gone!
Quickly—Yes. Almost instant relief from soreness, stiffness, lameness and pain follow a gentle rubbing with "St. Jacobs Oil."

Rub this soothing, penetrating oil right on your painful back, and like magic relief comes. "St. Jacobs Oil" is a harmless backache, lumbago and sciatica cure which never disappoints and doesn't burn the skin.

"Straighten up! Quit complaining! Stop those torturous 'satisfies.' In a moment you will forget that you ever had a weak back, because it won't hurt or be stiff or lame. Don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle of old, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" from your druggist now and get this lasting relief.—Advt.

truly of their relation to man in the betterment of his condition, the promotion of his happiness, and the advancement of his civilization."

He dwelt upon the mutual dependency of human beings in a social state upon each other, and that the whole human race was wrapped and bound with the iron bands of its needs, which would become stronger as these needs multiply, and that this really resulted in a national interdependence. He spoke of the exercise under the law of the right of condemnation of property, and eminent domain, and of the interstate commerce act, the trades commission act, the Sherman and other anti-trust laws, the public utilities law, and the laws regulating the hours of labor as illustrating the fact that property could be controlled and bent to that purpose by law.

CROWD SETS RECORD AT SHOW OF "MUMS"

Exhibit at Department of Agriculture Contains Finest of Specimens of Flower.

The largest crowd that ever witnessed the opening day's exhibition of chrysanthemums visited the green houses of the Department of Agriculture yesterday. Just 1,346 persons saw the great white and yellow blossoms.

Much praise was extended to the new varieties, some of them with the diameter of a dinner plate. Some of the most striking in color and size were the "Queen Mary," a large white flower; the "Mrs. William H. Walker," a long and delicate shape, yellow in color, and the "Bob Pulling" and Mrs. "R. C. Pulling."

Specimens of the "William Haenders," named after the late superintendent of gardens and grounds, and of the "James Wilson," named for the former Secretary of Agriculture, have attained an unusual height. Specimens of the "Amarantha" variety, so called because of their color, attracted attention in contrast with the white and yellow plants.

A Sure Way to End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single grain and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.—Advt.
